By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O. Jan. 3.—Two men died from burns today and other aged men and women rescued by firemen and neighbors were in hospitals after flames broke out in the home of the aged last night.

Chief Fire Warden Patrick E. Barrett said the fire undoubtedly was started by defective wiring. The attic of the house was a perfect maze of electric wires in a deplorable condition, Barrett said.

Investigations were started by relief officials and fire wardens. All but four of the victims had been placed in the home by the county or state relief administration.

The exact cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Two Men Perish
John Clark 78 and Joseph Petrovich 89, a private patient were the most seriously injured.

Mr. Petrovich, a private patient, was brought to the hospital after the fire. He was suffering from a stroke brought on by the excitement. The other men and women patients were suffering from shock.

Funds To Be Exhausted at

rector Reports

BOND MONEY GOES FIRST

Commissioners Going to Columbus with Request for State Grant

That Marion county's direct relief problem is again nearing a critical stage was seen today in an announcement by County Relief Director John Abel that money raised by the county from a $65,000 bond issue will be taken over the direct relief burden Dec. 31 and will be exhausted at the end of this month.

No funds are in sight to carry on the relief program. Mr. Abel said it appears to be up to the state legislature to provide some means for this and other counties that are in a jam to continue relief.

The $65,000 of cash poor relief funds were delivered today to the purchaser the Providence Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Cincinnati. When deductions are taken out for indirect relief measure only $20,565 will remain for direct relief purposes. Of the amount bills amounting to $23,226 have piled up for December leaving only $3,339 which will be exhausted at the end of January.

County Auditor Harry W. Mounts said bills for the first half of December which total approximately half of the $23,226 will be paid today morning and that creditors may call at his office for their money.

Picture Serious Situation
Mr. Abel stressed the serious nature of this county's relief problem and said that unless some provision is made to carry on the program the dire will be disconcerting leaving the 10,000 now on relief rolls in the city and five townships without means. The township participating in the county program are Salt Rock, Montgomery, Big Island, Prospect and Waldo. The other 10 townships in the county are caring for their relief load locally.

When the county took over the relief load from the federal government last month it was estimated that only about 450 cases could be handled without means. The county is dependent on direct relief and that all others on the rolls at that time would be absorbed by WPA projects. The failure of the WPA program to come up to expectations is responsible for the load being more than double the number that can be handled.

Mr. Abel said it now appears to be up to the state to take some action that will provide Marion and other counties with means to continue their relief programs. There are two possibilities that may develop he said. Out of the present session of the state legislature may come legislation that will lift the restriction on poor relief bond issues and thus allow the county to issue more bonds without a vote of the people or the state may start making direct grants to the county to carry on relief he explained.

To Seek State Grant
J. O. Velez, member of the board of county commissioners said to call the board would go to Columbus Monday or Tuesday to discuss the possibility of a state grant to care for relief needs after the bond issue money is exhausted.

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, Pa. Jan. 3.—Cash drawers in the bituminous coal commission office remained nearly empty today, 24 hours after the zero hour for paying processing taxes under the Huffer Little NRA bill.

Only a scattered few payments of the 15 per cent tax—based on the price of coal at the mine—have been made.

Many producers are contesting the soft coal code in the courts and others agree to comply with the code but have obtained temporary restraining orders against tax payments. The complying operators' opponents would have given a better competitive position if tax payments were made by code signers immediately.

As a result a situation so complex that apparently only a supreme court decision can break the jam has arisen.

The national bituminous coal commission took no direct action to enforce regulations calling for collection of the sales tax, even though it claimed to have enrolled companies producing 70 per cent of the nation's output. Under the Huffer Little bill these companies would receive back all but 1 1/2 per cent of the payments.

The five commissioners have working individually for several months without funds other than a loan because in the closing minutes of the last congress the appropriation for their activities was lost through failure of a deficiency bill.

In addition, approximately 500 operators and producers have primary injunctions granted by courts in Kansas City to the District of Columbia have virtual control of the commission's funds. Pittsburgh last week some 200 actual code compilers were given court permission to operate without paying the tax.

In the first two decisions at Louisville and in Washington the judges decided in favor of the commission. The latter decision was later reversed by the Supreme Court.

Later a Kansas City judge declared against it and in Pittsburgh three federal judges said its legality is very doubtful.

Claims Payoff Now Would

Than Congress Intended.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Convening at noon in an aura of politics, congress found itself confronted at once today by the explosive neutrality and bonus issues.

Hardly had the gavel fallen before the administration itself seeking some discretionary embargo power for the president and the veterans organizations bonus measure were introduced.

Awailing what President Roosevelt would have in say in his state of the union speech at 9 p. m., many of the legislators obviously were ready to go to the mat over whether the neutrality policy should be made mandatory by congress and whether or how to redeem the veterans' compensation certificates.

Would War War Implement
Under the bill introduced by Chairman McNary of the house foreign affairs committee the president would have discretion as to embargoes on war materials but would be required to embargo actual war implements. Financial transactions with belligerent governments would be barred.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States opened up against the compromise bonus bill, contending it would cost $1,277,000,000 more than congress originally intended. House members back of it went ahead with the same.

Deep and perhaps prolonged disputes appeared inevitable on both questions this being a presidential election year.

Clockroom talk was quite as much about the surplus as it was about the neutrality bill. If the AAA bonus passed that, if the farm agency followed the way of NRA, the political future would be badly affected.

Budget Vengeance Awakened
Although the Roosevelt measure tonight was expected to give his legislative program in broad outline, leaders inclined to place more importance on the budget to be forwarded Monday.

The treasury reported a $1,879,651,192 deficit at the end of 1935 compared with the $3,810,000,000 the president estimated it would reach for the entire fiscal year ending June 30.

In good spirits during a brief press conference the president denied himself to critics except for the regular cabinet meeting. The 4,000-word message went to the printers after a final polishing. Then a relaxation period was scheduled before the time to don his tuxedo and step to rostrum to go to the capitol.

Big Affair Tonight
The nighttime scene here contrasted with that of previous congresses. While many veterans were on hand mostly feminine, the usual crowding was absent. Blushy going underfoot accounted for this in part, but the incident demand for tickets to hear the president at 9 p. m., showed where popular interest lay.

House Republicans will probably only succeed in getting a big surplus bill passed. The bill would require the president to pay out of the surplus the cost of the war. The bill would require the president to pay out of the surplus the cost of the war.

DUCE, SELASSIE ACT TO CURB DISSENSION

Premier Repeats Warning to Opposition: Troops Sent to Quell Ethiopian Uprising.

By The Associated Press
Officials of two nations at war with each other moved today, informed sources reported, to strangle any internal dissension in their countries.

In Italy, Fascist party leaders called emergency meetings to repeat to their followers Premier Mussolini's strong declaration 10 years ago that opposition to his regime would be removed by force.

Five thousand troops were sent from Addis Ababa to Goggjam province, near Lake Tana, to quell disorders allegedly incited by Italian thousands of copies of an appeal for loyalty to Emperor Haile Selassie also were dispatched to the province to combat attempts to stir a revolt against imperial taxes.

A nephew of the imprisoned Haile Selassie, erstwhile governor of Goggjam, was blamed directly for the trouble.

Domestic dissension in Italy—any—has not been officially recognized. Premier Mussolini was represented in informed quarters, however, as maintaining the same position he had a decade ago when he said "When two elements conflict and are irreconcilable, the solution is force."

Any criticism of Fascist leadership it was believed, might come from delay in the campaign of conquest of the Ethiopian fronts together with results from League of Nations sanctions.

Heading the Ethiopian loyalist campaign was the Abuna (bishop) of the Coptic Christian church who signed the appeals. The situation in Goggjam province has become dangerously worse, informed sources disclosed.

The Swedish government agreed to assist the Swedish Red Cross in raising funds to finance an investigation into the bombing of a Red Cross unit by Italian aviators on the southern Ethiopian front.

COUNTY POLITICAL BALL IN MOTION

Leaders said they did not know of any persons outside the ranks of present officials who had made definite plans to be candidates.

"It's a little too early yet," one of them said.

Meetings Expected Soon
Both party organizations are to hold meetings some time this month to map general plans for the approaching campaign. Dr. G. J. Altmeppen, chairman of the Marion County Democratic central and executive committees, and Bud H. Lawson, chairman of the Marion County Republican executive committee, said no definite dates have been set for meetings.

Naming of candidates for president, governor and a majority of state elective positions will come before voters at the May primary along with those of persons seeking nomination for county offices.

Fifth Likely Candidate
A M. Gilead man, H. Earl Griffith, former postmaster at Mt. Gilead and Republican campaign chairman for Ohio last year, is expected to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.

There will be district contests for congress and state senate. Congressman Brooks Fletcher, a Democrat, is expected to seek re-election. He has been assured opposition by George J. Kohrer of Bucyrus, who has announced he will seek the congressional nomination on the Democratic ticket, centering his campaign on advocacy of the Townsend old age pension platform.

Dr. G. W. Grant of Bucyrus has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Thirteenth-Thirtieth senatorial district which includes Marion county. The office now is held by Senator John P. Bower, a Democrat, of Rushsylvania.

Three county elective positions will not be filled at the 1936 primary and general election as terms of incumbents extend through to future years. The three officials holding these offices are Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young, County Auditor Harry V. Mounts and County Commissioner O. C. McCully.

CRISIS THREATENS IN COUNTY RELIEF

haunted. Until this possibility is investigated, he said, the board will consider no other plans for raising money.

If the state aid can be obtained to carry the county until the primary in May, a bond issue may be placed on the ballot at that time, he said. Mrs. Weis said that the board would exhaust all other possibilities before determining to call a special election for a vote on a bond issue before May.

All Sources Tapped
The $68,000 bond issue exhausted all sources of relief money that can be tapped without a vote of the people. The county was authorized by the state tax commission to issue bonds up to the stated amount under the Carey poor relief act. They are to be repaid from the public utility excise tax.

Deductions totaling $21,294.35 were taken out of the $68,000 for poor relief measures other than direct relief. Allocation of the $21,294.35 is being made as follows: cost of administration of the $44,705.65 direct relief funds, $2,266; allocated to the five towns, $1,783; county home, children's home, soldier relief, blind relief and tuberculosis cases, $12,700; expense of bond sale and first interest payment, $250; surplus commodities distribution, $150; WPA materials and incidentals, $451.35; Sclerotic dam project, $500; county ditch project, $209; children's home project, $475; real estate and housing survey, $500; sewing project, $600.

Plan Hopes On Congress
Meanwhile the state WPA administration looked today to congressional debate to disclose its future. The Associated Press reported.

The state's share of Ohio's relief problem grew meanwhile, with house leaders drafting a bill to create a 10-month, $15,000,000 program.

Senate leaders worked to eliminate objections to their own bill sponsored by a committee headed by Sen. James McLaughlin, Democrat of Cuyahoga county. This bill provides a six month program with a $1,000,000 rotary fund to care for immediate demands. A state relief commission would administer it.

A WPA official said he expected Republican attacks in congress on the federal relief program to crystallize sentiment and possibly draw some definite relief statement from President Roosevelt and WPA chief Harry Hopkins.

LINDBERGH LEAVE FOR CARDIFF, WALES

Depart With Son from Hotel in Liverpool "To Seek Quiet and Rest."

By The Associated Press
LIVERPOOL, Jan. 2.—The Charles A. Lindberghs left Liverpool today for Cardiff, Wales, where their representative said, they will seek "quiet and rest."

The famous couple and their 11-year-old son, left quietly by automobile after three days of strict seclusion in their hotel suite. Because of the very secrecy imposed on the movements of the flying colonel, Anne and three-year-old Jon, many and varied rumors arose as to their plans.

The Lindberghs arrived here Tuesday aboard the S. S. American Importer after a 50-day voyage from New York and established themselves unexpectedly in Liverpool's Adelphi hotel.

Col. Lindbergh, who said in a short statement issued by Gregory, "I am very pleased at the consideration shown myself and family and I am looking forward to quiet and rest in this country," found his wishes already fulfilled in part, even with his plans still apparently indefinite.

BONUS, NEUTRALITY BILLS INTRODUCED

Behind the Bill of the powerful veterans' groups. The neutrality issue was off to a quick start too. Chairman McCreynolds, Democrat of Tennessee, of the house foreign affairs committee and Chairman Pittman, Democrat of Nevada, of the senate foreign relations committee were ready to present a bill worked out in conferences with the President and Secretary Hull.

Advance reports indicated the bill might give the chief executive the right to determine to what extent such commodities as cotton, and oil, should be shut off from belligerent nations. The bill was described too, as including restrictive provisions concerning loans and credits to warring countries, although its details were kept secret.

Some legislators have opposed broad discretionary powers for the executive.

As the congress met, Democrats demanded speed on major legislation and an early adjournment, while the Republican leadership called on the house to cease being "rubber stamps."

Snub Attacks Spending
Attacking what he called the "spendthrift policy of the administration," Rep. Snell of New York, house minority leader, asserted appropriations will need "more than ordinary consideration."

He said Republicans would advocate "reduced expenditures, a balanced budget, sound financial policies, withdrawal of government competition with private enterprise, a return to representative and constitutional government and freedom from foreign entanglements."

Speaker Byrnes said that "every-one wants to see all necessary legislation given the fullest possible consideration."

But he added that "unless there are those who wish to prolong the session for political reasons, it seems to me that it should not require much longer than three months to consider and enact all essential measures."

Court May Prolong Session
Besides the bonus and neutrality, Democratic leaders viewed these measures as paramount. Appropriations, particularly those involving national defense and relief; ship legislation to separate subsidies from ocean mail contracts; any measures held necessary if any new deal acts are ruled invalid in impending supreme court decisions.

Indeed, both sides agreed that the high court's course may have more to do with determining the length of the session than anything else.

Party chiefs looked both toward the President's message to-night and his budget message Monday for indications of administration desires on relief funds. Mr. Roosevelt thus far has mentioned only a request for about $500,000,000 for public works.

Gallery seats for tonight were in tremendous demand.

They were available only to a select few.

COUGHLIN FOLLOWER IN CINCINNATI FIGHT

Rev. Bigelow Attacks City Manager After Deadlocking Election of Mayor.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O. Jan. 3.—For the first time in its 10-year history here, the city manager was under attack today—by a follower of Father Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest.

Rev. Herbert E. Bigelow, newly-elected independent member of city council, said a councilmanic fight over election of a mayor deadlocked by himself since Wednesday—should be extended, so far as I'm concerned, to the city's administrative head.

Bigelow, advocate of municipal utilities ownership and extension of TVA power to large cities, including Cincinnati, assailed C. A. Dykstra, city manager since 1921, for what he termed a "gratuitous interview" wherein Dykstra said he had been informed Cincinnati could not obtain Tennessee power for five or six years. Referring to charter reform adherents who have been in control of municipal affairs since 1928, Bigelow asked:

"I wonder if 10 years is not too long for any party to hold power? Men whom I regarded as above suspicion have become impregnated with public viewpoints."

U. S. Olympic Winter Sports Team Sails for Germany

OFFICIALS AND MANY ATHLETES PAY OWN EXPENSES ON TRIP

Squads Turn Backs on Bitterness and Controversy That Preceded Departure

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The United States Olympic winter sports teams, bolstered by a couple of last minute additions to the bobsled squad, turned their backs today on the bitterness and controversy that preceded their sailing and headed for the winter games at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

About 45 athletes and a group of officials and coaches made up the squad aboard the S. S. Manhattan.

The candidates for the women's ski team and a number of men's skiers and jumpers already are in Europe. Gilbert Colgate, one of the bobsledders, sailed yesterday.

Butt Pike and Eddie Egan of the bobsled squad and the entire figure skating team will sail with him this month.

Egan and Clifford (Lippy) Gray, who rode with Pike in 1932 to win the Olympic title, notified the bobsled committee yesterday of their willingness to pay their own expenses if they would be permitted to join the equal team.

The fastest two in trial will be chosen.

Officials and many of the athletes are paying their own expenses and every team is supposed to be self supporting.

A few big time performers always take part along with the stars of the metropolitan district. The winners will not be assured of places on the Olympic squad but it will give them a good start in that direction.

Three of last year's big four of middle distance running, Chuck Hornbaker of Indiana, now a graduate student at Harvard and Glenn Cunningham, the famous Kansas runner, entered in the 800 meter special.

I'VE GOT ONE FINISHED POPEYE - I THINK A LOW NECK AND LONG SLEEVES GIVE IT DIGNITY - AND I'VE WIDENED THE BOTTOMS OF THE PANTIES SO IT WILL MAKE WALKING EASIER - AND THE ROSE PATTERN IS ATTRACTIVE.

WHAT'S THE MATTER, DON'T YOU LIKE IT?

BRUTIA'S FIGHTING MEN STILL POURING INTO SPINACHOVA - AND WHEREVER THE BRUTIAN SOLDIERS GO SO GO THE BRUTIAN VULTURES.
